FACE 2011 Annual Conference

“Lifelong Learning and Community Development”

CALL FOR PAPERS AND REGISTRATION

Wednesday 29th June to
Friday 1st July 2011
Glasgow, Scotland

Hosted by the Centre for Research and Development in Adult and Lifelong Learning (CR&DALL) at the University of Glasgow

The Forum for Access and Continuing Education is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for its 2011 annual conference.

Keynote Speakers

Professor Andy Furlong,
University of Glasgow

Professor Wendy Purcell,
University of Plymouth

Professor Catherine Hoppers,
University of South Africa

Professor Keith Popple,
London South Bank University

Themes

The four key themes of the conference are:

- Higher Education provision and its contribution to community development: contributions may be economic, social, health-related, environmental or cultural, or a combination of one or more of these. 'Community' in this context may vary from one small discrete group through to a whole region.
- The future of outreach work and the Aimhigher legacy: whilst this is a particular concern in England, papers are invited also from other parts of the world where there are similar outreach initiatives. These may take the form of reflective pieces from an external perspective
- The role of Qualifications Frameworks and accreditation of prior learning within community settings
- Universities and their regional and local role within contracting economies

Abstracts

The conference invites contributions in the form of papers and roundtable discussions. In both cases these may be research-based, practice-based, or a combination of both, but in all cases should exhibit good scholarship and be suitable for publication. A roundtable should consist of between 3 and 5 linked contributions, and will be allocated a longer slot for presentation equivalent to that for 4 papers.

In the first instance, contributions should be submitted within one of the four broad themes of the Conference outlined above.

Abstracts of up to 200 words (in the case of roundtables up to 1000 words) should be sent to the contact details at the foot of the submission form (attached) by 28th March. These should include the theme under which the abstract is submitted, names and designations of author(s) and the email of a primary contact.

Those submitting will be informed whether the paper or roundtable has been accepted for presentation by 18th April

Full papers of no more than 4000 words should be submitted by 27th May.

These will be anonymously reviewed according to standard academic procedures and those accepted will appear in conference proceedings after the conference.

If you would like to discuss potential submissions please contact CR&DALL via the contact details given below

Further details of conference themes and paper requirements will be available on both FACE and CR&DALL websites.

Bookings for the conference are available from Monday 24th January

Conference Programmes will be issued to participants in June.

CR&DALL would be happy to discuss display, sponsorship and exhibition space with interested parties.

We look forward to hearing from you.

The University of Glasgow and CR&DALL

The FACE 2011 Conference is hosted by the Centre for Research and Development in Adult and Lifelong Learning (CR&DALL) within the School of Education at the University of Glasgow. Founded in 1451, the University of Glasgow is the fourth oldest university in the English-speaking world. Today we are a broad-based, research-intensive institution with a global reach and a global strategy with a dynamic local presence. With the School of Education, the University offers a comprehensive range of provision for all sectors and communities.

Within the area of community engagement work, we seek to improve the quality of adult education and community development in Scotland, and the Glasgow area in particular, by undertaking leading-edge, internationally-competitive research and development, while offering a challenging student-centred learning environment. As the community engagement arm of a leading international university, we bring global knowledge and practice to local and national adult education and community development. We aim also to sustain and add value to Scottish culture and society, to the natural environment and to the national economy.

We are one of the world's largest providers of university-level adult education, with an annual recruitment of 7000 students at all levels from pre-undergraduate to doctoral. CR&DALL is a dedicated research centre concerned with adult education and community development, and is engaged in a large number of research projects internationally, disseminating its work extensively through a range of outlets and events.

GLASGOW

Glasgow is a modern, vibrant European city in which it is a pleasure to work and live. It is an ideal destination for a Conference and provides many attractions should delegates wish to extend their stay in order to come to know the City and its surroundings.

Glasgow is well served by air, railway and road connections to the rest of the UK and Europe and by air connections to the rest of the world. It has two international airports – Glasgow International and Prestwick International. Budget airlines fly to both and to Edinburgh airport (less than 50 miles from Glasgow). The University locale is easily reached by Underground and Bus connections as well as by Taxi. For more information see <http://www.glasgow.gov.uk/en/Visitors/GettingHere>

For additional information about visiting Glasgow see the other sections of that 'Visit Glasgow' site.

FACE (Forum for Access and Continuing Education)

Established in 1993, FACE is an active UK wide network for all those involved with Access, Continuing Education and Lifelong Learning. As a multi-sector practitioners network, FACE and its members are at the forefront of the challenges involved in providing learning opportunities for all. As an inclusive organisation FACE encourages collaboration and partnership whilst maintaining a member-driven voice on key issues for learners and providers.

REMEMBER

Abstracts (200 words) and Roundtables (1000 words) to us by MARCH 28th
- our response by 18th April

Papers (4000 words) to us by MAY 27th

ACCOMMODATION

The Conference Fee does NOT include accommodation and participants must arrange this personally. A wide range of hotel accommodation, from luxury to basic, is available in Glasgow and the University also has budget 'Conference Accommodation' (in halls) available for conference delegates.

The University's Conference and Visitor Service can arrange hotel accommodation at discount rates thus we would recommend that participants in the FACE Conference contact the CVS office first.

Further information is available at:

<http://www.gla.ac.uk/services/cvso/accommodation/hotelbookingservice/>

For 'Conference Accommodation in Halls'

Go to the above website and click on 'University of Glasgow Residences' on the left-hand menu. This will give you information on the Halls themselves. A word of warning, however! We are advised that in mid-2011 only one Hall is likely to be available for outside bookings and, thus, we list this as an option subject to availability. If you wish to book such accommodation you should do so, as soon as possible by e-mail to the University's 'Casual Lets' office - vacationaccom@gla.ac.uk – to check availability and book directly with them.

For Hotel Accommodation

Go to the above website and view the list of star-graded hotels on the left-hand menu. Please note that we are advised that the University has yet to receive the 2011 price lists so the rates quoted on the website may no longer be available.

If you wish to make a hotel booking, click on 'Make an Enquiry' in the left-hand menu, complete this and send to the CVS office. The office will be back in touch with you to confirm any booking. You may wish to call the office on \(00\)0141 330 411601413304116). You should note that Glasgow is a popular tourist destination in June/July so you should make bookings as soon as possible.

Please note: while happy to answer enquiries regarding the Conference arrangements, the CR&DALL office cannot arrange or advise on accommodation for participants – please use the links above.
